Clover POS one day pop-up free equipment ($1,850 value)

Tuesday August 16th Clover Pop-up sale

Clover POS is a solid system for restaurants and small businesses. Their monthly maintenance for software and support is $39.95/month. Cheap! End of 2020 they started offering a hosted online menu that connects directly to the restaurant POS. Meaning customers can go to your website and order online, pay with a credit card and the order shows up on your Clover POS tablet, funds deposited in your account with no fees. The hosting is included in the $39.95. Most POS systems charge $40/month just for hosting!

Typically the DUO setup (cashbox, tablet, printer, second tablet) costs almost $2,000. Tuesday, August 16th, as part of a Restaurant Depot promotion, Clover is providing new customers this hardware at no cost. Just start paying the $39.95/month.

- 1) You should confirm your situation with your current credit card processor that you are not under contract and can cancel. Not uncommon to have a long term contract with onerous exit fees.
- 2) Do you annually process more than $100,000 in credit card purchases. Many restaurants may have high sales but a lot of those sales are cash or sales through 3rd parties like Grubhub or Doordash.
- 3) Are you a Restaurant Depot Member? If not you'll need to sign up at one of the restaurant Depots, Alsip or the one on Division and Halsted are closest. Or talk to Frank he may have another idea.

Next Steps:

Fill out the attached pre-application. Connect with Frank Kelly, Clover rep, on Monday or before. Discuss with him whether you need to meet him at Restaurant Depot on Tuesday or whether you can sign up remote. If you are not already a Restaurant Depot member, you will have to sign up (does not cost anything). Frank may have a solution for you to sign up without going in.
